

ROSEVILLE COVENANT CHURCH

Guidelines for Prayer Chain Requests:

Roseville Covenant Church believes in the importance of prayer and the power of God, who answers those prayers. The purpose of the Prayer Chain is to intercede on behalf of those in need. Below is a list of guidelines regarding the appropriate use of our Prayer Chain link:

The Prayer Chain email list should only be used for communicating prayer requests and to praise God for answers to prayer. Follow-up emails regarding answers to prayer or ongoing prayer needs are also encouraged.

Please limit submissions to prayers for those within our church family or with a close relationship with a friend or member of the RCC.

Requests should be 150 words or less.

Prayer Chain emails should never be forwarded. Prayer requests are considered confidential. Prayers may be shared with others only if the person who is being prayed for gives permission or if it is shared without identifying information.

Personal opinions are not appropriate within the prayer request. Sent out via the RCC Prayer Chain, they appear to reflect an official stance of RCC and thus we must be careful.

If administrators of the Prayer Chain question the appropriateness of a request's content, they may forward it to a Pastoral staff person for approval before distributing it to Prayer Chain members.

Thank you for abiding by your guidelines and placing your trust in the Lord!
